

Rules for Tangram Happy Families

Once the full deck of 28 cards consisting of 7 families has been thoroughly shuffled, the cards can be dealt face downwards to each player. Once the entire pack has been depleted, players can begin to arrange their cards in order of families.

The aim of the game is to complete whole families of four.

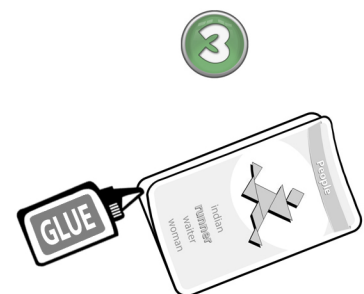

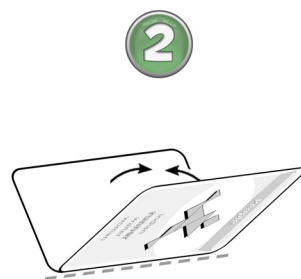

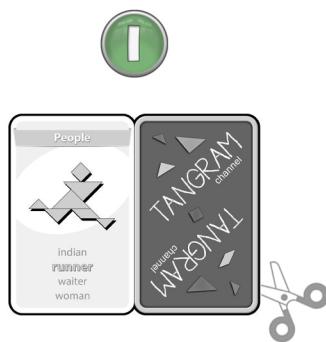

If by any chance, a lucky player happens to begin a game with a complete family, these four cards must be placed face down on the playing surface.

Following arrangement of the cards, the game can begin in earnest.

This involves the player to the left of the dealer studying his or her cards to see exactly what is required. The active player should then address any other player and ask if a needed card is 'at home'. If the asked player does happen to have the card, he or she must hand it over at once to the questioner. The asker can then address either the same player, or any of the others for another card that is needed. This continues until the questioned player does not happen to have the card required.

The asking then moves over to that player.

This continues until a single player has all of the cards and all of the families. That player is then recognised as the undisputed winner!
